NCKU Moodle Instruction Manual

The Group Choice module allows students to enroll themselves in a group within a course. Teacher can obtain group list simply.

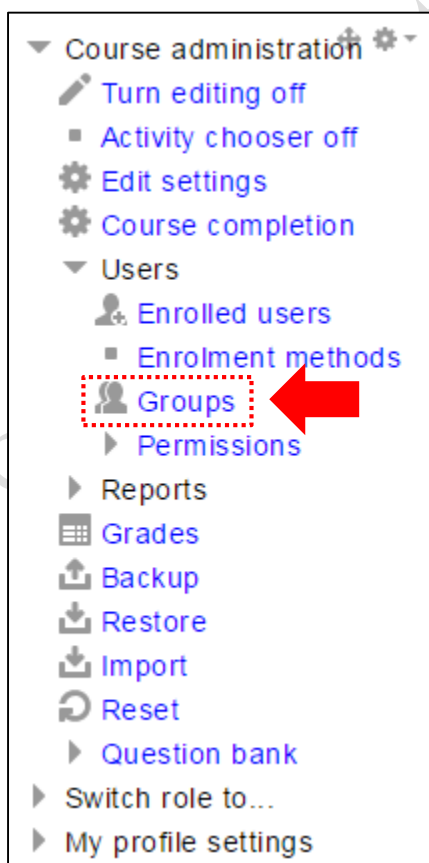

A course can create multiple Group Choice activities. If the “Allow choice to be updated” option set as true, student can update their group and system will store the last modify one. Therefore teacher can create several group choice activities sequentially and let student update the group by themselves.

【Note】 The application of groups please refer to “Course groups” document.

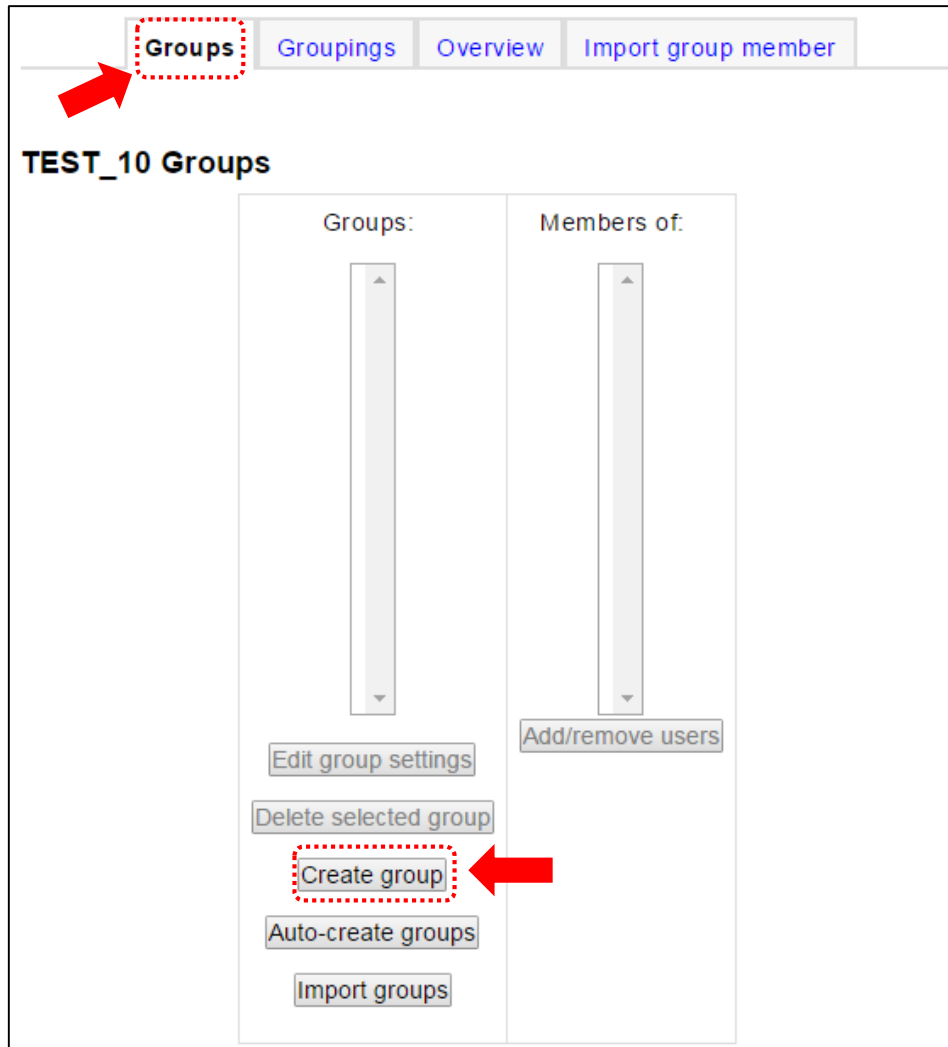

【Note】 Teacher must create the group first so that student can select the group.

I. Create Group
